11. General: -

(a) Development of Museum :

Commission has in its possession a rich treasure of archival materials : original Pamphlets, Documents, Reports and other Records not easily accessible to the public. Accordingly, the Union Public Service Commission decided to set up a Museum where such materials could be aesthetically displayed for discerning visitors.

(b) Broad scheme of the Museum :

- i) The Museum has been planned with three basic components, each forming a section in the Museum's display. The first section provides information and puts on display materials that highlight the history of UPSC, mainly the vision of administrative set-up in ancient India, administrative management of the State during medieval days and significant phases such as the Government of India Acts. This section also provides information regarding Civil Services in other countries.
- ii) The second section displays some sample material related to UPSC itself, especially the pamphlets related to examinations.

- iii) The third section puts on display reports of various Committees appointed from time to time for giving suggestions in regard to enhancing the quality of UPSC and thereby that of the Civil Services in India.

The UPSC museum has been conceived to give an idea of the development of UPSC, process of recruitment to various posts and thereby a vision of the country's administrative system, its character and quality is on display.

(c) Museum Building :

The Museum Building is located within the premises of the UPSC, the Dholpur House, Shahjahan Road, New Delhi. The entry to the Museum is free and the Museum is open to public from 10.00 AM to 02.00 PM (Monday to Saturday ) and closed on Sunday and other Gazzeted holidays.

- (d) 'An in- house blood donation camp' was organized in collaboration with the Indian Red Cross Society on 21.12.2016. The Hon'ble Chairman graced the occasion by interacting with the team of Indian Red Cross Society and the blood donors. 46 officers and staff of the Commission donated blood on this occasion.
